Welcome to Morges!

The region of Morges offers a varied choice of landscapes and settings. Between Lake Geneva, the mountains and the view of the majestic Mont Blanc, the rich vineyards of La Côte and finally the green countryside of the Jura foothills, Morges is a real gem with a thousand facets.

As you can see, Morges will satisfy nature lovers, but also those who love culture and the art of living.

Indeed, the cultural heritage is huge. There are many museums, theatres and splendid places where history is still a major actor in the region. The district also abounds in small natural gems: breathtaking panoramas and marked-out hiking trails to be taken on foot, by bike or on snowshoes.

The Morges region also represents the authenticity of a land where the grape varieties that make the "La Côte AOC" appellation famous grow. Discover specialities during your stops at a local shop or wine cellar and awaken your taste buds during tastings of the many local products: wines, chocolates, pastries, cheeses, and many others.

Morges is the first city in Switzerland to register as a Slow Destination, a trend in response to the acceleration of modern life. It is a way of travelling quietly, to meet the local population, while adopting an eco-responsible behaviour. Morges allows you to embrace this tranquility, thanks to its landscapes, its activities, its craftspeople, its gastronomy and its public transports.

Welcome to this multi-faceted region, emblematic of Slow Tourisme !

Morges Region Tourism labels

Morges Région Tourisme has been awarded the VAUD label based on 23 criteria. "VAUD ambassadeur" institutions share common values that embody Vaud's excellence and contribute to the canton's identity and reputation.

My Climate allows customers to offset their carbon footprint by paying a contribution when purchasing online. Morges Région Tourisme doubles the amount and invests it in a sustainable project.

The "Vaud œnotourisme" certification recognizes Vaud-based professionals in the hotel and restaurant trade, wine and good taste in general, who attach particular importance to providing a quality tourism and gourmet offer.

This distinction was introduced by Switzerland Tourism and aims to make Switzerland the most sustainable destination in the world.

"Les Grands Sites du Goût is a network of partners with a product that is emblematic of their region in Switzerland. The aim is to publicize their know-how, promote their offer and enhance the value of slow tourisme. Morges Région Tourisme and the oil mill of Sévery have joined to represent the region with the Walnut.

Morges Région Tourisme is present on the Swiss Wine Tour platform, which proposes a selection of wine tourism offers in the different wine regions of Switzerland, bookable directly online.

Moving

Morges Région Tourisme - in the heart of Morges

In 2025, Morges Region Tourism inaugurated its new premises at Place de l'Hôtel de Ville 1, marking a decisive step in the development of the institution and the improvement of visitor services.

Designed as a modern and inspiring space, this new location offers the team a working environment that facilitates the promotion of the many treasures of the Morges region. More accessible and designed to meet the current challenges of tourism, it allows Morges Région Tourisme to pursue its missions in an environment that is perfectly consistent with its objectives.

A house of tourism designed for the visitor experience

The new premises offer various areas dedicated to tourist information, discovering regional products, and promoting must-see events in Morges and the surrounding area. This redesigned layout creates a welcoming and fluid space where visitors, Morges residents, and partners can easily find inspiration to explore the region.

A strategic dynamic

This change of address is part of a long-term vision: to accompany the evolution of the destination, support sustainable tourism, and continue to promote the cultural, natural, and gastronomic diversity of the region. Since its establishment, Morges Région Tourisme has continued its activities in a setting designed to promote exchange, innovation, and regional influence.

Slow Pass

The Slow Pass - discover the region in "Slow Mode"

Launched in 2025, the Slow Pass embodies the spirit of Slow Tourism: taking the time to walk, cycle, taste local produce, contemplate nature, and discover heritage in complete serenity.

Offered to travelers staying at least one night in a hotel or other accommodation (campsite, bed and breakfast, apartment, or vacation home), this digital pass gives access to exclusive discounts on a wide selection of activities: guided tours, museums, craft workshops, tastings, bike rentals, and much more.

The Slow Pass also includes vouchers for public transportation, valid from, to, and within the district of Morges, for easy and sustainable travel.

The Slow Pass accompanies our guests throughout their entire stay - from the first to the last day - and also offers attractive discounts on numerous activities across the region.

It's a simple, responsible, and enjoyable way to fully enjoy the region, between Lake Geneva, the vineyards, picturesque villages, and the landscapes of the Vaud Jura.

Morges, an accessible destination

Slow Tourism is also about giving everyone the opportunity to travel and discover a town or village in the same way. It is with this in mind that Morges Région Tourisme aims to develop as an accessible destination.

Several projects have already been born out of the desire to become a truly barrier-free destination:

- An all-terrain wheelchair can be rented at the Arboretum of the Aubonne Valley
- The lakeside path will be marked as a barrier-free path in 2022
- A ramp for the Little Tourist Train (financed by the Cerebral Foundation)
- An Accessibility page on the Morges Région Tourisme website
- Accessible holiday offers designed in collaboration with the Claire & George Foundation and bookable on their website
- An accessible "Promenade du Littoral" walk along the quays of Morges
- The Paderewski Museum offers an audio version of its permanent exhibition. This enables the blind and visually impaired visitors to learn more about this illustrious Morges figure.
- New access facilities to the lake for people with reduced mobility

Take the time to taste ...

La Côte, a wine region

The Morges region boasts a rich vineyard that is part of La Côte AOC (appellation d'origine contrôlée), the largest wine-growing region in the canton of Vaud. Chasselas, the region's emblematic grape variety, is the must-try white wine, while fruity rosés and elegant red wines complete the diversity of the wines on offer.

Find all the information here.

One of the distinctive features of the Morges vineyards is Servagnin de Morges, a red wine made from Pinot Noir grapes, considered to be the oldest variety of this grape grown in Switzerland. Today, only Pinot Noir vines located within the Morges appellation area can bear the name Servagnin de Morges.

GRANDS SITES
DU GOÛT

The Moulin de Sévery is unique in that it maintains the traditional, centuries-old system of pressing walnuts to extract oil. It is the last mill in Switzerland to operate year-round.

The “Grands Sites suisses du Goût” is a network of regions that use their gastronomy and wines as the flagship of their tourism offering. The aim is to promote a destination through one or more products that tell the story of its history, culture and landscape.

Markets

There are plenty of markets in the region, giving you the chance to discover local produce.

Come and visit them:

- in Morges every Wednesday and Saturday morning
- in Aubonne on the first Friday afternoon of the month
- in Cossonay on Friday mornings
- in Bière on Saturday mornings

Several producers also offer the opportunity to buy directly from the farm, with fridges or small markets available to visitors.

Flower festivals

Morges is famous for its flowers. It hosts the emblematic Tulip Festival from April to May, followed by the Dahlia Festival from July to October. But the region is not to be outdone! The gardens of the Château de Vullierens are colored from spring to autumn by late-blooming tulips, irises, roses, hemerocallis lilies and rhododendrons.

As for the village of Eclépens, it welcomes the Joncquilles from mid-March to April. At the Arboretum, cherry trees take center stage from March to April, followed by magnolias from mid-March to early June. Find out more about the Floralties here.

Must-see Tulip Festival

The Tulip Festival takes place every year from late March to mid-May. The Parc de l'Indépendance and the town of Morges are entirely in bloom for the occasion. Events such as the potters' weekend, the tulip market and bulb sales also take place during the festival. We've got everything you need to get the most out of the event.

With its spectacular views of Lake Geneva and Mont Blanc, the Parc de l'Indépendance and its tulip-filled quayside promise to leave you with some great photo memories.

Take the time to discover ...

Between old towns and castles

The Morges region abounds in architectural treasures, thanks to its many old towns and castles. Some of these castles can be visited, such as Isle (only with a guide) or Morges and La Sarraz, which now house museums.

Others, such as Aubonne, Vullierens, Vufflens-le-Château and Eclépens, are not open to visitors, as they are now used for other purposes. Find out more about our castles and their history here.

"Top Secret" Exhibition

During World War II, Switzerland, surrounded by the Axis powers, asserted its neutrality. But to what extent did the country serve as a base of operations for Allied spies and resistance movements?

The Château de Morges lifts the veil on this shadow war with a unique exhibition bringing together more than 500 exceptional documents and objects. Encrypted transmissions, secret agents, escape routes, and clandestine operations: discover the complex links between the Swiss intelligence services, the Allies, and the European resistance, as well as the birth of modern secret services and the beginnings of the Cold War. A fascinating immersion into a little-known facet of our history.

Must-do

La Soupe à la Grenouille

©Marine Claude

Discover the region from a different perspective with fun and immersive treasure hunts.

Follow Barbet's adventures in Aubonne and Tolochenaz, and explore new trails launched in 2024: Sur les traces du Sifflet d'Or (In the footsteps of the Golden Whistle), a family investigation between Bière and Morges, and the Détective-Trail, a puzzle-filled adventure in the heart of the town of Morges.

La Soupe à la Grenouille is a life-size investigation in the heart of the village of L'Isle, combining mysterious crime, clues to decipher, and places to explore.

The discovery of a lifeless cook in a pot of soup disrupts the calm of the Château.

It's up to you to take over the investigation, question the suspects, and solve the puzzles in an 18th-century setting inspired by historical figures and events. An immersive adventure for ages 15 and up, to be enjoyed alone or in small groups.
